1. The airfield, 1 km square, was southeast of Dnepropetrovsk (48°27'N/31°59'E), Ukrainian S.S.R., on the northern bank of the Dnepr River, southeast of the Karl Liebknecht Plant, and about 2 km southwest of the entrance to the Ukrainetz Plant.
2. In 1946/1947, 40 to 50 biplanes were parked on the level field, which was not fenced-in. Construction work started at the field in the fall of 1949. It appeared in the spring of 1950 that a new residential settlement was to be built there.
3. A large five-story grey building about 400 meters long, or possibly a series of individual adjoining buildings with a total length of 400 meters, was located on the southwestern part of the field. The building was allegedly used as air force quarters. The building now adjoins the new residential settlement.
